

SCOTT GAGE

Scott Gage has spent the last 25 years involved in the travel, hospitality and real estate industries, both in operations and at a board capacity.

After graduating from the University of Colorado with a BA in Arts and Science, and a MBA from Carlson School of Management, Scott spent 17 years running Gage Outdoor Expeditions – a global travel and hospitality company, specializing in adventure travel. Currently, Scott is Co-Chair and Co-CEO of Carlson Holdings, the parent company of Carlson, a global leader in corporate travel. Scott also chairs the board of the Carlson real estate company and sits on the Carlson Board.

On the philanthropic front, Scott has been actively involved for the last 20 years in helping reshape and improve the “education gap” in underserved neighborhoods in Minneapolis. Scott has sat as vice chair on the KIPP Charter School board, as well as the Carlson School of Management’s supporting organizing board. He is also currently sitting on The Carlson Family Foundation and Augsburg University StepUp Boards.
